Continued Limits On Time Payments Sought By Truman

President Wishes To Have Regulation Given Longer Life

WASHINGTON, April 14.—(AP)—President Truman said today that he wants Congress to continue the government's power to control time-payment buying.

The question was raised at Mr. Truman's news conference by a reporter who noted that so-called "regulation W" expires June 30. That is the regulation governing installment buying.

Some congressmen and business men have been urging an end to the controls. They argue that dropping them would mean a short-in-the-arm to lagging sales of many controlled items.

The federal reserve board, which administers the controls, eased them a month ago, cutting the amount buyers must pay down on refrigerators, radios and some other products. The board also allowed more time to pay off the balance.

Mr. Truman's remarks indicated he does not believe the danger of further inflation is ended.

But most business men seem to believe the odds now are strongly against it. They appear to be fairly scrambling to cut down on inventories and get out of debt.

Officials guessed today that the chief explanation for a record-breaking drop in business loans during the first week of April could be stated like this:

Scared of getting caught with large stocks of goods during a period of falling prices, many businessmen don't want to borrow to build up stocks; they are using proceeds from sales to pay off old debts as fast as possible.

In any event, an unprecedented $277,000,000 plunge in business loans during the week ended April 10 is a sharp drop from the $400,000,000 level at the same time a year ago.

Still, the total business loan volume in the week ended April 10 was $14,627,000,000 or $197,000,000 above the level at the same time a year ago.

Officials said it was apparent that businessmen are trying to avoid a repetition of a major event in the depression of the early 1930's: the building up of stocks of goods that couldn't be sold at the going price, the calling of loans and consequent forced sales at sacrifice prices.

Insofar as they prevent a recurrence of that it's all to the good, as officials see it here. The danger would be a panicky, unreasonable halt in buying that would bring widespread factory closings, laying off of workers, and a consequent cut in consumer buying power.

FBI Finds Stolen Money From Bank Buried By Coffin

NEW YORK, April 14.—(AP)—Led by a lonely, rain-swept cemetery, FBI agents last night dug up $49,122 cash he buried beside his grandmother's coffin.

Discovery of the hidden money left out of the $883,660 cash and bonds that Richard H. Crowe looted March 25 from his bank's vault.

He led federal agents to the hiding place after a two-hour talk with his wife and attorney.

A thick fog hung over the isolated Staten Island cemetery as federal agents shoveled under rain-soaked earth to find portable floodlights and flashlights.

A mental examination has been ordered for Crowe, who is under indictment for embezzlement from a branch of the National City Bank where he was assistant manager.

Servel Is Facing State Charges Of Fixing Its Prices

AUSTIN, Tex., April 14.—(AP)—The attorney general today accused Servel Inc. of fixing the price of gas and electric refrigerators, heaters and air conditioning systems in Texas.

The petition alleges that Servel, a Delaware corporation, conspired with its Texas distributors to fix uniform retail prices on its products sold in Texas and forbid independent retailers from selling for less than the fixed prices.

Servel was charged with restricting territories in which sales could be made by independent dealers. The Houston Natural Gas Corp. was charged with prohibiting dealers from handling other refrigerators and maintaining the manufacturer's fixed prices.

U.S. Prepared To Grant Hearing On Any Red Proposal

WASHINGTON, April 14.—(AP)—The United States stood ready today to receive and consider joint proposals from Britain and France—any proposal Russia might make for lifting the Berlin blockade and renewing four power talks on Germany.

The Western powers are now in the strongest position they have attained since the start of the cold war. In view of this it appeared they would require negotiations to be undertaken at the outset, at least, largely on their own terms.

At the same time, as reaffirmed yesterday by Secretary of State Acheson, are simply that the Soviets must lift the blockade unconditionally prior to resumption of four power discussions on Germany as a whole.

Acheson made a cautiously worded comment at his news conference yesterday which officially emphasized the American position that communications for any proposal from the Russians are open if Moscow wants to use them.

At the same time he said he had nothing to add on previous policy declarations about lifting the blockade and he could not appropriately comment on any possible change in the Soviet attitude.

Acheson was prompted to make his brief comment on the situation yesterday by an inquiry about a press dispatch from London. This dispatch attributed to a diplomat information that Russia recently had offered to lift the blockade in return for renewing four power talks on Germany.

Acheson indicated he had studied the report and carefully considered beforehand what he would say about it. The secretary's associates flatly declined to amplify his remarks. Some usually well-informed officials said they had never heard of any Russian idea.

Frankfurt, Germany, Gen. Lucius D. Clay, the American military governor, said he had not been approached on it.

Nationalist Army In China Seizes Town From Reds

NANKING, April 14.—(AP)—Government forces today recaptured Kaohsiung, 50 miles east of Nanking, amid some indications it had lost the civil war and surrendered to the Communists.

At the same time, the government apparently had lost the Yangtze river island of Talyangchow, 70 miles southwest of Nanking, to the Reds.

The China puzzle was complex. But this seemed apparent to trained observers—Nationalist China was breaking up into separate military and political parts.

The Communist radio in Peking announced formal peace talks had started after 12 days of preliminary observations. The talks seemed to mean to observers here that the government negotiators had agreed to the eight points laid down by the Reds. They amount to virtual surrender.

But this is political. And the politicians negotiating do not represent all of nationalist China, which roughly means the area south of the Yangtze.

400 More Homes In Philippines Burn

MANILA, April 14.—(AP)—A second outbreak of fire early today destroyed 400 more homes in Cebu City, raising to 1,600 the number destroyed within 15 hours. Many were of thatched huts.

Ten thousand persons are homeless, the Philippines Red Cross estimated.

$7,000 Damage Is Caused By Blaze On South Beaton

Business Places Suffer In Early Morning Fire

Fire at 1 a. m. Thursday swept through the upper floor of a two-story building at 104-106 South Beaton St., causing damage to four business firms, and requiring an hour and a half of stubborn fighting by the fire department.

Heavy losses in the blaze was M. C. Legge whose Corcoran Recreation Club was wrecked.

Fire Chief H. P. Blivins, who estimated overall damage at approximately $7,000, said the blaze originated in the second floor recreation unit. Pool tables and other equipment were ruined by the blaze.

The lower floor of the building is occupied by three business concerns, two of which suffered damage.

The Mitchell-McAfee Jewelry Store, owned by L. B. McAfee, had heavy damage from water. The same was true of a barber shop owned by Sims Hagler and Zack Barton. The M. F. Osborne Cleaning & Pressing Shop suffered smoke damage only.

The fire was confined to the upper story of the building, firemen pouring 1,000 gallons of water a minute into the blazing structure.

Hoses were fighting the blaze from the front and rear, and it never gained headway.

The building, owned by Tom Hickey, is situated between Kress and the old Grand Theater building.

Chief Blivins, fearing the fire might spread southward into a long line of vacant business houses, had standby help from the city engineer's office just in case more men were needed.

It was feared that heat from the fire might set off the powerful automatic sprinkler system in the new Kress building, but a thick firewall prevented it. C. B. Moore, Kress manager, made an inspection of the store at 2:15 a. m. and said there was no damage. Only the rancid smell of smoke was evident.

The fire had its freak angles. Although it poured into the barber shop below from every angle, it did not spread.

Four Indicted For Oil Operations By U. S. Grand Jury In Louisiana

SHREVEPORT, La., April 14.—(AP)—Four men, including a state senator, are under federal indictment in connection with oil operations in western Louisiana.

They are State Senator H. Alva Brumfield, Baton Rouge; Hugh Arnold Guy, Bunkie, La.; D. O. C. Thompson, Jackson, Miss.; and Isaac Thompson, DeQuincy, La.

All were arrested yesterday after a U. S. grand jury had returned three secret indictments at Monroe, La., last Friday.

The indictments charge: Guy and Thompson with failing to keep certain required records and falsifying others concerning crude oil delivered to the Southern States Refinery Co., Inc., plant at DeQuincy.

Guy and Brumfield with conspiring to keep certain records and falsifying others concerning sales of the oil after it was refined; Guy and Brumfield with conspiring to induce witnesses before the federal petroleum board to testify falsely and withhold material facts from the board.

District Attorney Malcolm E. LaFargue identified Guy at president of the Southern States Refinery Co., Inc., Thompson as foreman in charge of the Spurlock Oil Company's oil gathering system at DeQuincy and Edmondson as a bookkeeper employed by Guy.

The Southern States Refinery Co., Inc., is also named a defendant in the first two indictments.

In the first, the government charges Guy and Thompson with entering an unlawful agreement under which Thompson would "fraudulently and surreptitiously" take crude oil from the Spurlock Oil Co. facilities and have it "secretly" transported to the Eola, La., plant of the Southern States Refinery Co., without making any record of the transaction. Hoover Probers Reiterate Charge On Army Budget

WASHINGTON, April 14.—(AP)—Striking back at Army criticism, a Hoover commission task force defiantly insisted today that the budget requests.

The subcommittee of the government reorganization group flatly denied that its report on the National Military Establishment contained ten "misstatements of fact" as alleged by Secretary of the Army Royal.

It said the Army's comments actually "confirm the committee's report in every instance and in practically every detail."

For example, it said, its report that the Army had once "asked for funds to modernize 102 more tanks than it possessed" was absolutely true. The task force said the discrepancy wasn't noted until its own investigators pointed it out.

It said much the same thing about a clerical error which added $30,000,000 to another Army budget figure.

The commission headed by former President Herbert Hoover based a series of "recommendations for government savings" partly on the reports of its task force.

The task force on the military establishment handed in the results of its investigations in November. Royal followed up in March with a letter to Hoover asking that the "ten misstatements" be corrected.

The task force point-by-point rebuttal along with Royal's letter, was made public today by Perdiand Eberstadt, former member of the war production board, who headed the Hoover subcommittee, may reach $10,000,000 in the wake of its worst recorded earthquake. Governor Arthur B. Langlie of Washington gave a "tentative" damage figure for yesterday's violent shock. He said the final count may range between $2,000,000 and $10,000,000.

This was based on reports to the governor from the Red Cross, the State Patrol and other agencies.

The earthquake, at 11:55 a. m. PST yesterday, caused scores of injuries. Bricks showered off cornices and buildings sagged; chimneys toppled from residences and industrial PULLMAN, Wash., April 14.—(AP)—A new earthquake jar was felt here today, some 400 miles from the scene of yesterday's major quake in the Puget Sound area.

Washington State College officials said mirrors danced on the walls and windows rattled at 1:20 p. m. (PST).

There were no reports of damage, but the jar was strong enough to be felt generally.

Pullman barely felt the major quake yesterday in the Seattle area. Today's jolt was "much stronger" here, residents said.

Two small, unoccupied houses on Fox Island, near Tacoma, "trembled," said a local resident.

Many Cities Shaken Cities from Vancouver and Victoria, B. C., in the north, southward to Oregon towns in the Salem area felt the quiverings of the quake. (Heraldists read it of No. 8 intensity, which compares to No. 12 or total destruction quake.

The Red Cross and State and Federal Agencies stood by today, ready to plunge in with aid.

Gov. Arthur B. Langlie at Olympia said he had asked for the long and bitter debate which held up for 13 days approval of the senate's own Marshall Plan bill.

Anti-Segregation Rule For Housing Will Face Fight

WASHINGTON, April 14.—(AP)—Three Democratic senators backed President Truman's civil rights program today pledged Dixie legislators their support in fighting an anti-segregation amendment to the long range housing bill.

The promise came from Senators (D-Miss.) J. William Eastland, (D-Minn.) and (D-Iowa) Hubert H. Humphrey, as the senate called up the multi-billion dollar housing program for debate.

All three senators emphasized that they have not changed their minds about civil rights, but want the program handled in separate legislation. They said they are opposed to the anti-segregation amendment because they feel it would have the effect of killing the housing bill.

In fact, Humphrey and Taylor contended that the sponsors of the amendment, Senator Bricker (R-Ohio) and Cain (R-Wash.), are offering it in an effort to defeat the bill. Both Bricker and Cain denied that.

The Cain-Bricker amendment would bar any discrimination on the basis of race, creed or color in the renting of public housing authorized under the bill.

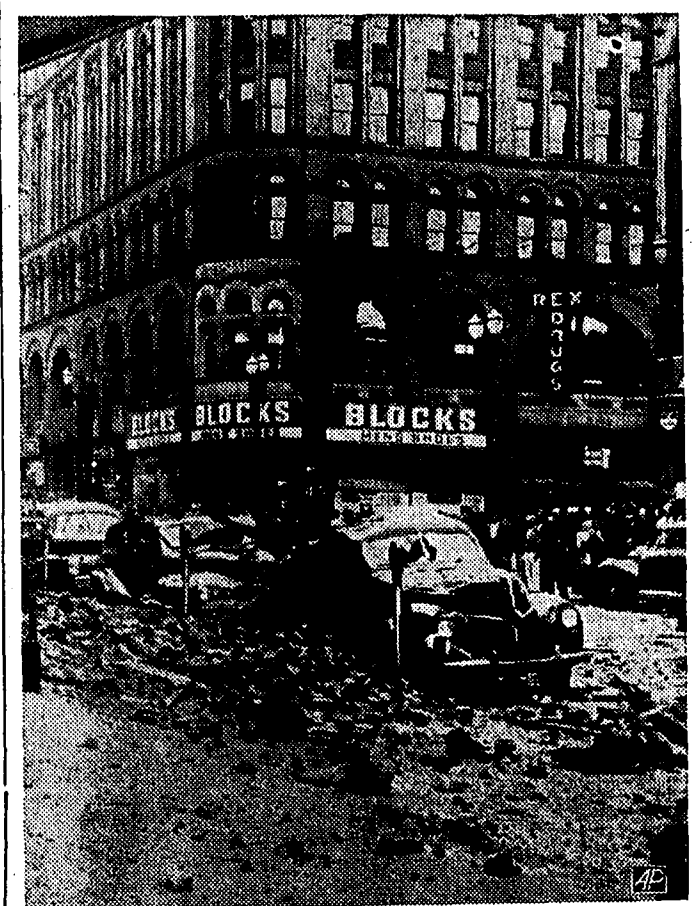

The bill provides for construction of 810,000 public housing dwellings during the next six years at a cost of $3,000,000,000, annually toward financing the project over a 40-year period.

The measure also calls for a $1,500,000,000 five-year slum clearance program, a $250,000,000 four-year farm-home project, and a research program designed to spur construction by cutting the cost of homes.

Officials who signed criminal orders were just as responsible as the men who committed the actual murders and brutalities. The judges of the majority were William C. Christian of Red Wing, Minn., and Robert T. Maguire of Portland, Ore.

The charges were: Count 1—Planning, initiating and waging a war of aggression. Count 2—Conspiracy to commit crimes against peace and humanity.

Count 3—Murder and ill-treatment of prisoners of war. See NAZI SENTIMENT, Page 3

Bill Authorizing Funds For Program Of ECA Goes Through Congress Fast

WASHINGTON, April 14.—(AP)—Congress gave quick approval today to a compromise $5,880,000,000 European Recovery Program.

A few minutes after the authorization bill passed the house it was approved by the senate in both houses acted by voice vote. Now the measure goes to the White House for President Truman's approval.

This swift action by the senate was a sharp contrast to the long and bitter debate which held up for 13 days approval of the senate's own Marshall Plan bill.

The measure simply approves another 15 months of Marshall Plan aid to Europe, and sets a ceiling on the money to be spent. The cash must be provided later by appropriation.

The bill as finally passed was in the same form in which it came from the senate-house conference last night. It provides just about everything the administration asked.

The final bill (1) approves $1,500,000,000 for the economic cooperation administration to use by June 30; and (2) approves spending $4,380,000,000 in the year starting July 1.

These were the exact amounts asked by President Truman and ECA to be spent over the coming 15 months. The senate-house group turned down the President's request to authorize ECA to spend $150,000,000 in long-range contracts beyond 1950.

Instead, the members agreed on a $150,000,000 fund to guarantee American businessmen abroad that any profits they make in foreign currencies will be converted to dollars.

In a news conference discussion, he said a special $800,000,000 appropriation he had asked for the present fiscal year—ending July 1—would be $99,700,000 less than its spending.

The $800,000,000 was asked because GI benefits, particularly unemployment payments, are costing more than was anticipated when this year's budget was drawn up. The house has approved the fund, but the senate has not yet voted on it.

The in-the-red prospect has already brought fresh talk among top experts in congress of what to do.

Top Democratic tax managers in the house said congress "should have the courage to increase taxes if the only alternative is a government deficit."

Frightened Shark Jumps On Beach

Battle Of School Bills Explodes In Lower House

Legislature Said Making Itself Seem Ridiculous

AUSTIN, April 14.—(AP)—Warfare over the Glimmer-Aiken school bills exploded in a hot exchange of charges and counter-charges on the floor of the house today.

Kill the bills or pass them, but quit stalling, Rep. William George Richards of Lockhart urged the house. He said the house is making itself appear ridiculous to the public because of its inaction the past three weeks.

Rep. Sam Hanna of Dallas shouted back that "it's a hell of a note that a man can't speak his mind without being accused of using dilatory tactics."

The outburst came after the house had spent more than an hour and a half on routine motions without getting down to consideration of the pending bill to reorganize the state administrative set-up of the public schools—a key measure in the Glimmer-Aiken plan.

Hanna said he was going to fight the bills until "hell freezes over." He said in a personal privilege speech that he was speaking for a house minority that has battled the measure.

While the house battle broke out into a verbal slugfest, the senate refused by a 17 to 8 vote to take up out of regular order the controversial basic science bill. Backers failed to muster the necessary two-thirds vote to advance the measure urged by medical doctors and opposed by chiropractors.

Amendments. The school bill in the house faced some 15 or more amendments, before it came to a vote on a final vote on second reading.

"We have spent three weeks on you know what, and you know why," Richards said, referring to the Glimmer-Aiken bills. "We've bogged down, stuck in the mud."

"Let's get moving here and get something done. No one issue is important enough to bog down the state legislature," he told applauding members.

Then Hanna strode to the microphone to hurl his counter-charge. "Whatever we've done we've done according to the rules," Hanna cried.

"Let's blame for this? I tried to get them (Glimmer-Aiken backers) to postpone this but they said 'No, we've got the votes.'"

"I won't yield to pressure groups. I'm going to make you take these bills and like it. I may take it, but I'm not going to like it."

Long Debate. The house has been debating the school bill since its reorganization bill by Senator Jim Taylor of Kerens for more than three weeks at the rate of two days a week. Proponents have frequently accused opponents of using filibuster tactics.

This morning, the Taylor bill was formally placed before the house by Speaker Manford at 11:47, one hour and 47 minutes after the house opened to order.

The intervening time had been taken up by members—many

Hundreds Watch As Girl Kisses Broken Statue

SYRACUSE, N. Y., April 14.—(AP)—Hundreds came last night to watch an 11-year-old girl kiss the forehead of a broken religious statue saved from a trash can.

Many, including a Roman Catholic priest, said tears appeared in the eyes of the plaster image of St. Ann after Shirley Anne Martin had pressed her lips to it.

Some visitors kissed the severed head but nothing happened, witnesses reported.

Bishop Walter A. Foery of the Roman Catholic diocese of Syracuse could not be reached for comment.

The child was reported near exhaustion last night after demonstrating the phenomenon for several hours. St. Ann was the mother of the Virgin Mary, the Mother of Christ.

With a colorful carnival background as the setting, the 26 numbers, ranging from the proverbial circus parade to well-executed dances, magic tricks, and songs, were presented to a large and appreciative audience. Highlighting the carnival scene and giving it a serious note was the oration of the wishing well, which gave sound advice to all those who cast in their pennies.

The program, manifesting a spirit of democracy and co-operation, was under the direction of the Junior High faculty, and the stage scenery was designed and painted by students of the Mechanical Drawing Department.

H. C. Allen, principal of Junior High School, welcomed members of the audience and announced that the proceeds would be used for the benefit of visual education.

Oil Case

Guy falsified records on the oil and filed them with the Federal Petroleum Board.

In the second indictment the government charges Guy and Edmundson made "certain false reports, accounts and certificates" on the refined products and filed them with the Federal Petroleum Board.

The third indictment charges Edmundson and Guy conspired to "influence, obstruct and impede the due and proper administration" of federal laws. It charges they did this "by corruptly inducing such witnesses to testify falsely, to withhold and suppress material facts and to give exculpatory but false information to the Federal Petroleum Board."

Brumfield was not, as previously reported by the Associated Press, indicted on a charge of violating the Connally "hot oil" act.

And last night at Baton Rouge, he denied the charges against him, saying the indictment resulted from "my efforts to conscientiously represent a client."

In a written statement he said he had never conspired with anyone to induce witnesses to testify falsely or to withhold and suppress material facts concerning his client.

"I did advise Mr. Guy that he was not required by law to make statements before the Federal Petroleum Board," he said.

LaFargue said the four men will be arranged in the U. S. District Court at Alexandria, La., "probably the last of next month."

Jury Acquits Man Of Killing Friend On Hunting Trip

SWEETWATER, April 14.—(P)—A 39th District Court jury today found Floyd Harris innocent in the slaying of Milton Marshall, 32, last November.

The jury deliberated five hours and 45 minutes. It returned a verdict at 9:45 a. m. today.

Harris had been indicted for murder.

The case went to the jury last night.

Several hours earlier the 48-year-old Harris wept as he described the death of Marshall, his companion on a duck hunt.

"I'd rather he had killed me than I him," Harris told the jury.

He testified Marshall became angry after he hid a bottle of whiskey from which they had been drinking. "He made me get a car, and started speeding. He threatened to kill me," Harris testified.

"I tried to get the switch key. He slammed on the brakes and threw me against the windshield," Harris continued. "I got the door open and jumped out. A gun blast that seemed two-foot wide went over me as I hit the ground. The gun slipped out the door. I was almost blinded but I picked it up and shot into the car."

Weeping, Harris added: "I had no motive to kill him."

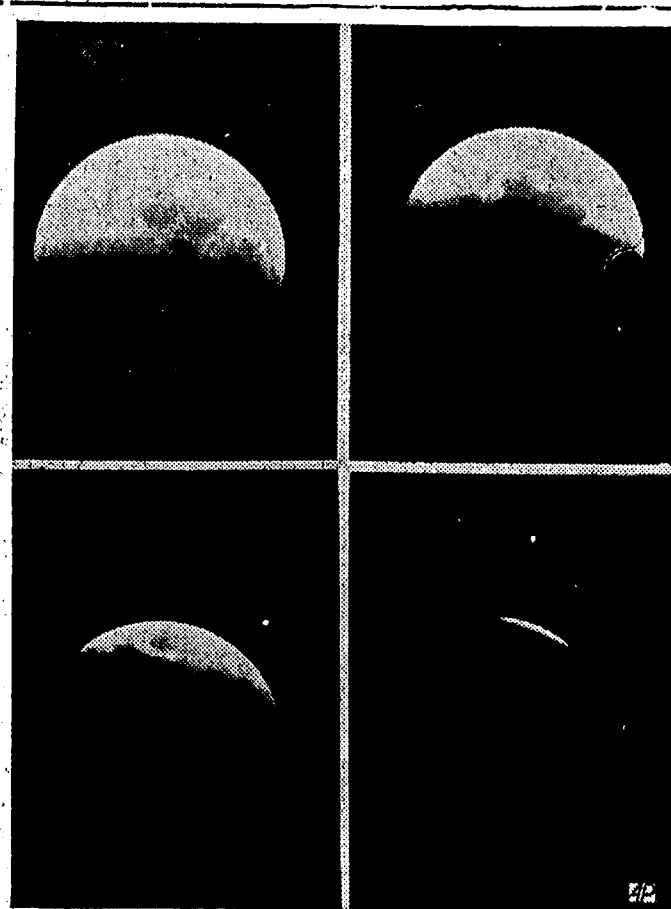

Marshall's body was found by passersby on a highway near here the morning of Nov. 14, 1948.

May 9 Is Set For Hearing Argument On Tideland Case

WASHINGTON, April 14.—(P)—The Supreme Court has set May 9 as the date for hearing arguments on whether it will permit the justice department to file suits seeking to establish federal control over submerged oil lands off the Texas and Louisiana coasts.

Attorney General Clark has asked the court for permission to bring the suits as original actions, meaning that they would be decided by the high tribunal without first trying them in lower courts.

Mrs. V. L. Herrin Funeral Services Held Thursday

Mrs. V. L. Herrin, former resident of Corsicana, died at her home in Mexia Wednesday. Funeral services were held at 3 p. m. Thursday at the Corley Funeral Chapel in Mexia with Rev. W. R. Blackmon officiating. Burial was to be at Hamilton cemetery near Corsicana.

Mrs. Herrin is survived by her husband of Mexia; two sons, R. E. and W. A. Hux, both of Comstock; three daughters, Mrs. F. G. Wallace of Longview; three grand children; two brothers, J. E. Hux and W. A. Hux, both of Comstock; and three sisters, M. J. S. I. Gathright, Mrs. Ada Thorpe, both of Corsicana, and Mrs. Mackie Jones of Dallas.

Americans Due To Face Army Trial In Guatemala

GUATEMALA, Guatemala, April 14.—(P)—Two Americans, jailed as suspected revolutionaries, probably will be tried by a military court, it was learned today.

It has not been announced what charge will be made against the pair, who have identified themselves as Robert Farnham and Ronald Rothe, both of Tucson, Ariz. The penalty for armed banditry ranges up to the death sentence in Guatemala. The same holds for armed revolt.

The two Americans claim they were compelled to join a revolt against the Guatemalan government, or die at the hands of its leader.

EARTHQUAKE

Two of the quake dead were in Olympia. Falling chimney bricks killed Percival Bisson, a veneer plant steamfitter. Mrs. C. W. West died of a heart attack when the quake shook her hotel.

Buildings Suffer

Langley's assistants reported on the condition of several state buildings. Two dormitory buildings at the Boys Training School at Chehalis, Wash., were damaged, and two boys were hurt. Seventeen men in the Old Soldier's Home at Botsel, near Bremerton, were moved after damage to their building.

Tacoma, 30 miles south of Seattle, reported "scores and scores" were treated for shock, bruises and other minor hurts. Many downtown buildings were ordered evacuated.

The Holy Rosary Church, probably the highest in Tacoma, was closed, as its cross was in imminent danger of collapsing.

Two men were hospitalized from injuries at the Narrows Bridge Tower, where a 23-ton "saddle" fell and sunk a scow. The "Jinx" bridge blew down in a 1940 windstorm and is being rebuilt.

At Puyallup, Tacoma, geysers of water appeared suddenly during the quake in a four-block area. There were no water mains in the vicinity.

In Seattle a preliminary listing showed 75 buildings which suffered quake damage for amounts estimated up to $50,000 apiece.

USELESS COMMITTEES

Louis Johnson, the new secretary of defense, has made an eye-opening start in his job by abolishing nine committees and boards in the defense establishment, which he found to be useless in his first examination of the department. He said that was only a beginning, and has directed the secretaries of Army, Navy and the Air Force to start gathering information on which more eliminations can be made.

Perhaps with the brashness of a new member of the cabinet, Mr. Johnson has raised his hand against a plague not only of the Defense Department but of the whole government. There are some 800 committees and boards in the defense establishment; in the total government structure there are thousands and thousands. The number which are obsolete or otherwise useless can only be guessed at. Committees and boards are set up casually to do tasks which someone thinks should be done. When the task is finished the committee or board perpetuates itself and seldom does anyone take the trouble to get rid of it.

Taxpayers will wish all power to Secretary Johnson in his attack on useless jobs within his bailiwick, and wish that a few other department and agency heads might be bitten by the same kind of housecleaning bug.

ON HELPING OTHERS

The people who have been trying to promote the idea that Franco Spain would be a good ally for the United States seem to have been temporarily turned back. Official policy toward Spain is not to be changed for the present, but the boosters of the idea cannot be expected to give up. They will continue their propaganda for financial and military assistance to the Franco government.

Public reaction to the idea probably had something to do with its defeat at this time. It is only a secondary point that any assistance given to Spain, with the idea of having a strong friend south of the Pyrenees, would be wasted. There would be no measure of the damage which would be done to the name of the United States, throughout the free world and the enslaved world as well, by any step which might strengthen the mailed fist of the Franco regime.

END OF FRENCH INDIA

France may lose some of her overseas possessions before the year is out. Officials of four French colonies in South India voted to hold a referendum on Dec. 11 to settle whether they shall remain under the French flag or join the Indian Union. If they decided to leave the French jurisdiction, they would do it gradually, taking thirty years to complete the process.

These meager lands, or less than 200 square miles and containing barely 300,000 population, are shreds of a great eighteenth century empire. Under a leader of genius, Joseph Francois Dupleix, governor-general of French India from 1742 to 1754, it seemed likely that India would be French and not British. Dupleix, however, was no court favorite, and intrigue among the hangers-on of King Louis XV brought about his recall. His successors were not equal to the task, and the war which on the continent of Europe was known as the Seven Years War, and in American as the French and Indian War, lost France

THE DREAM GOLFERS.

Back to the grill the golfers come, Hope shining in their eyes. The robins sing to welcome spring, The fairway open lies. They proudly tell to me When they get out, beyond a doubt, They'll score in seventy-three.

All winter long they've studied pros Who tell the cure for hooks, And some in bed, for hours have read.

The latest published books, A few have been to golfdom's schools. Instruction wise to get In stuffy halls, where practice balls Are driven in a net.

Others have played tangle favorite course In dreams before the fire, Where pits are not, and every shot Achieves the heart's desire.

And some have putted on a rug, Night after night, and think Greens fast or slow, blow wind or no, Their every putt will sink.

Time was the golfing books I read And thought the art I knew; When springtime came, with eyes aflame

I boasted what I'd do, But I've learned from year to year With each returning spring, The scores are made where golf is played; And that's a different thing.

both Canada and India, all but the tiny souvenirs that are now debating whether to cast away their last remaining bond.

FARMING IN TURKEY

Turkey, one of the world's backward nations, has turned toward progress and is trying to step out and become more productive agriculturally and industrially. According to Charles B. Enlow, agricultural attaché at Ankara, a beginning is being made in the recent establishment of large mechanized farms. Virgin soil is being cultivated by the use of tractors, combines, trucks and other machinery. The labor is performed by native villagers who are rapidly learning the techniques of handling and repairing the machinery. The aim is to increase greatly the production of grain, a marketable crop, which could help to finance future industrial development.

The agricultural advancement in Turkey is intended to produce food for export, and therefore is a help in tackling the problem of feeding the rapidly growing population of the world. Such exports as the project yields probably will be small, but they are particularly significant because the Turks have hitherto belonged in habits as well as in racial origin to the Moslem world, which takes little interest in the prosaic pursuits of export agriculture.

RACE PROBLEM

Those who become disheartened about the American race problem should look at South Africa. Out of 12,000,000 population, nearly 9,000,000 are of the native blacks, who nevertheless have the troubles of a minority group. The prevalent idea in South Africa appears to be to treat the blacks harshly, to deprive them of political rights, and to pen them up in certain parts of the country. This, the policy of the new Malan government, has just been endorsed by the provincial elections. Malan's party won 87 seats to 78 for the opposition, headed by former Premier Jan Smuts. Outsiders cannot think that Malan has the right approach. He is suspect in any case for the kindly attitude which his government has shown to Nazi sympathizers.

NO TREATY-SMASHING

One encouraging aspect of the Senate discussion of the Atlantic Pact is that no one is seeking the treaty-smashing role of Henry Cabot Lodge in 1919. Neither today nor in any of the post-war Congressional debates from San Francisco on has his name ever been cited in praise. While the League of Nations might not have succeeded in any case, the Lodge destruction of President Wilson's plan to join is now recognized as having done disservice to the United States and to the world. Thus far we have been spared from a repetition of his error.

Every Man's Gravest Question Confronts Him At Easter

Complete Justice Demands Two Worlds For Fulfillment—Christian Doctrine Of The Resurrection Surpasses Teachings Of Philosophers—The Resurrection A Truth To Live By

By WILLIAM T. ELLIS and EARL L. DOUGLASS

The outstanding day of the Christian year is Easter. All over this land, and to the farthest frontier of Christendom, churches will be crowded to capacity. There are some who feel that the reason for this is that a lot of people want to show off their fine clothes to the multitudes which have upassed on the Easter parade, but millions who have no fine clothes to show off will be in places of worship, their faces aglow with the brightness of the season. Deeper than the love of clothes is the love people have for the Christ, and this is the day which shows forth fully the glory of that celestial Figure.

The Mystery of Death
For life is one riddle and death is another. Indeed, life and death are indissoluble riddles unless we can postulate a future life. This earth's surface holds more graves than living homes. There are more persons dead than there are alive. Death is the oldest mystery and the greatest present grief. It touches us on every side. To multitudes the dead are a greater part of life than the living.

The only place where one encounters the least light on the mystery of death is in the Bible, and particularly in the New Testament. The philosophers have speculated on life after death, but speculation it is and nothing more. In the New Testament we learn that there was one time in human history when a Man actually demonstrated the existence of two worlds, the overwhelming glory of one over the other, the power and the eternal destiny which those who place their faith in Him have in another world. The Man, of course, was Jesus; the event by which He demonstrated these truths was His resurrection, which we celebrate at this season.

Anything as important as the resurrection should, therefore, be a matter of overwhelming importance to every Christian believer. To the people who actually followed with Jesus, it was all important. Two thousand years ago the Christian religion was like an irresistible wave across the Roman Empire chiefly because of a firm belief held by multitudes that Jesus had risen from the grave and was doing a new quality of life which all men of faith could share. Christianity probably would have flourished for a generation or two in the beginning as a unique sect and then have vanished from the earth had it not been for this period of conviction held by tens and later by hundreds of thousands of people that the teaching concerning the resurrection of Jesus from the tomb was truth and incredibly important truth.

Many today are hazy about the whole thing. Great numbers have become agnostic about the resurrection and all the spiritual truth it stands for. But fortunately these agnostics are still in the minority. Most people believe the resurrection, but they believe it as they believe abstract mathematical theory—the authorities say it's true, but so what? It is "so what" in the resurrection, however, which is all important. The resurrection was not just a great event; it was a great event which had meaning. It demonstrated that life on earth is just a part and a very small part of a vast universal life. It further showed that the rewards of the next world are reserved for those who earn them by faith and righteousness. Jesus, because of His complete fidelity to God, overcame death and won eternal life. But He won it not just for Himself; He won it for every one who believes in what He taught, what He stood for, what He did, what He was, and what He promised.

A Practical Doctrine
This brings the belief right down to where we all live. It teaches something overwhelmingly important about that loved one who died upon every act of our daily living, no matter how insignificant that act may appear to be. The Bible assures us that, for better or worse, we are destined to live forever.

More Funds For County Attorney's Office Is Sought

Legislators, representing Navarro county have been asked to seek additional state funds for the county attorney's office here.

County Attorney Charles T. Banister announced Monday that he had written Sen. James E. Taylor, Reps. George Nokes and Jerry Stockard in behalf of an appropriation bill. His letter to the legislators follows:

"I am writing this letter in behalf of an appropriation bill in order that the provisions of Art. 3012e, Sec. 13, Sub. B, Acts 44th legislature of 1935 may be carried out. The above statute provides as follows: 'The compensation of the criminal district attorney, or county attorney performing the duties of the district attorney, together with the compensation of his assistants, shall be paid out of the county officers' salary fund, but the state shall pay into such fund each year an amount equal to a sum which bears the same proportion to the total salary of such criminal district attorney, or county attorney performing the duties of the district attorney, together with the salary of his assistants, as all fees collected by such official during the year 1935 bear to the total fees collected by such official during such year.'"

"I have been informed that under the provisions of the above act, Navarro county should have received the sum of $14,608.80 for the past three fiscal years, whereas as a result of insufficient appropriations Navarro county actually received only $9,068.50. "Your assistance in this matter

J. S. Roth Rites Held Thursday; Oakwood Burial

Funeral services for J. S. Roth, aged 67 years, 1423 West Collins street, who died Tuesday afternoon following a several months illness, were held Thursday afternoon from the McComman Funeral Chapel. Burial was in Oakwood cemetery. The rites were conducted by Rev. Herbert G. Dudley, minister of the First Christian church, of which Roth was a long-time member.

Judge A. P. Mays Speaker At Noon Today For Lions

District Judge A. P. Mays, immediate past president of the Amateur Field Trial Clubs of America, talked to the Lions Club Tuesday about dogs.

"There are few of us who don't have a warm spot for dogs," he said, emphasizing that there is a "heap of philosophy" in dogs.

The judge said if a husband would brag on his wife one-half as much as he brags on his dog, he'd stay out of divorce courts.

The speaker's subject centered mostly around the King Ranch, its vastness, friendliness and sportsmanship. Many things have been said about the King Ranch, he declared, "that's a lot of bunk."

The ranch was the site a few months ago of the field trial championship which attracted thousands of spectators.

Game is plentiful on the ranch, the judge reported. At the field trials approximately 100 coveys of quail were flushed each day, he said, adding "they're not there by the millions; they're there by the millions."

The ranch pays a lot of attention to game, the judge said. On the approximately 800,000 acres are about 27,000 white tail deer, he said.

Seventy-two persons, including seven guests attended the luncheon. President Gaston Gooch announced that a memorial program entitled "Lions and the King Ranch" would be held April 27 at the Country Club.

Other announcements included one by Foy Garrett that a 40-voice choir would present an Easter program at the First Baptist church at 8 p. m. Friday, featuring the "Last Seven Words of Christ."

Garrett also announced that in place of the Lions annual minstrel show, the club will present "Jimmie Jeffries" show "Tomfoolery" at the senior high school auditorium May 3.

FIRE

The shoe shine boy's chair in the front was dry when firemen entered the building.

The heaviest part of the damage in the barber shop was to chairs and mirrors.

Water poured onto the watch repair desk in the jewelry store, ruining minute parts, McAfee said.

Most of the damage was confined to this desk, covered with watch parts, and a cabinet containing small parts and tools.

Rough estimates made by Chief Blivins placed damage to the building and to the equipment of the creation hall at $400. He said the barber shop had about $1,000 damage, and the jewelry store about the same.

The loss was covered by insurance, Chief Blivins said.

Caporne had no water damage, as the second floor which was burning does not extend over his business, which is in the rear. He had some smoke damage to clothes, but not a garment had a drop of water on it.

All off duty firemen were called in, and four main arteries were gushing into the top floor of the building. Both Chief Blivins and Assistant Fire Chief Billy Draver were on duty.

The blaze was discovered at 1 a. m. by Patrolman W. W. Wiswell of the police department. He said he had just stepped from an alley near the Southern Pacific depot when he saw the smoke and turned in an alarm.

Few people knew of the downtown blaze, and only a handful gathered on the east side of "at-on St." to watch the fire.

Hagler said he had passed by the building about 20 minutes before he was notified it was burning. Legge, who watched his business being wiped out by the blaze, said he had closed the door about an hour before notified of the fire.

District Supervisors Navarro-Hill Soil Conservation District: Morris Crawford, chairman; W. C. Pearce, vice-chairman; Thad Jones, secy.

Allen Edens, one mile northeast of Angus, has completed sodding 50 acres of Bermuda grass on eroded cropland retired to pasture. The sodding was done with a two-row sodding machine by Ed Moreau and Bill Childress. The contractors plan to sod collective terrace outlets and pastures for any landowner in the Navarro-Hill Soil Conservation District. The new sodding machine will sod approximately 20 acres a day, using Bermuda sprigs.

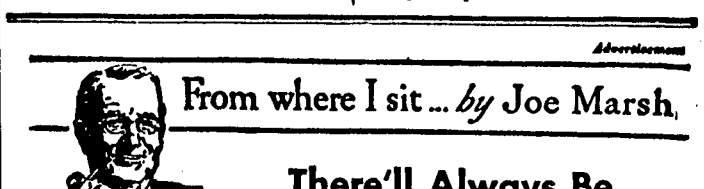

T. A. Talley, Boone conservation group, sodded two collective terrace outlets and approximately 5 acres of pasture to empty terrace water on when it becomes well-established to Bermuda grass.

L. E. Knotts, Boone sodded a collective terrace outlet using a turning plow and dropping sod in each furrow so as to get a cover of grass to empty terrace water on this fall.

R. E. Irvine, four miles southeast of Eureka, planted six acres of side-on grass, 1-2 acres of K. R. Bluestem and 1-2 acres of blue panicum for seed to be used in overseeding the rest of the pasture. The land was flat broken, disked and then rows laid off with cultivator in order to leave the ground flat for harvesting seed. The side-on grass and K. R. Bluestem seed were planted with a cotton planter and the blue panicum with a district-owned planter.

There'll Always Be a "Gawker"

"Harry the Hermit," as he's called, came into town last week and, as usual, caused quite a stir. He looks like a cross between Santa Claus and Daniel Boone.

We had a friendly glass of beer together and I asked him, "Don't you ever get annoyed at the way some people laugh and stare as you go by?" "Shucks no," Harry says. "Only while they're laughin' at me, I'm feelin' a mite sorry for them. Imagine—folks so ungrateful they can't see I'm really just the same as they are underneath."

Hearing On Jones Retrial Slated To Be Saturday

FRANKLIN, April 14.—(AP)—A motion for a new trial for S. B. Jones, convicted yesterday on a worthless check charge, will be heard by District Judge W. S. Barron at 2 p. m. Saturday.

Jones, former Hearn insurance man, was sentenced to five years in prison. The indictment on which he was charged alleged he gave the First State Bank of Franklin a worthless check for $10,500. He has five other indictments against him in connection with an $81,000 worthless check swindle of the bank. It merged with the First National Bank of Franklin after cashing the checks.

The worthless check and others alleged in indictments were given during Thanksgiving holidays last year.

Jones was arrested in Mexico and returned last Dec. 14. Testimony indicated Jones did not have enough money when McAllen State Bank, on which the check was drawn, to cover it.

BROADWAY....

by Mark Barron

NEW YORK — According to "Who's Who in the Theatre," Sir Cedric Hardwicke is 56 years old, a revelation for which he will probably smack me over the head at least twenty times when we next encounter each other in the vicinity of Rockefeller Plaza. But he looks a mere forty.

The other day Sir Cedric, commenting upon age, said that when the question arose he always remembered back to Eudite Shavian, whom he once asked if he could play Romeo in his late years. Shaw, without a moment's hesitation, retorted: "I am only ten minutes behind the youngest and handsomest actors in the country."

Shaw once called Hardwicke a great actor, "indeed, the world's fifth greatest actor." Shaw added that the world's four greatest actors are the four Marx Brothers.

For some reason it is often difficult to tell when Hardwicke, a bald-headed, serious gifted actor is playing with tongue in cheek or with all the dignity of his many dignified performances in Shakespearean roles.

His knighthood, conferred upon him in 1934, rests lightly upon his flair for wit which he gained in his youthful acting days, a time when he played the gravedigger in "Hamlet." This gravedigger role he said, evoked some laughs, but it determined him to proceed until he had achieved a complete Shakespearean repertory. The latter, he thinks, is the only complete basic training which a young actor can acquire.

Hardwicke, who has just completed the role of King Arthur with Bing Crosby in the Paramount film of "A Connecticut Yankee in King Arthur's Court," said that he gave a great sigh of relief when he was given the King Arthur role, for it was the first strictly comedy part that he had had since he came to Broadway or to Hollywood.

"I think I am humorous by nature, but I am always being cast in these heavy, stuffy parts," he said. "Or else that of the perfect English gentleman. Neither of which I am. I gravely fear that I played Shakespeare and Shaw so long that I shan't escape being either a man of grave digging or long sermons. But I do have considerable of an escape in the humorous moments I have with gay King Arthur."

BOYLE'S Column

By HAL BOYLE

NEW YORK—(AP)—Who will have the last laugh in the gadget age—man or the machine?

Well, the machine is already giving a preliminary daily chuckle, for it is gaining...gaining...gaining on mankind. It is convinced it will laugh last.

This poor man's philosopher has repeatedly warned of the danger that lives in in insidious machines—gadgets of all kinds that make men more comfortable but wean them from nature.

Recently I wrote that I had never learned to drive a motor car and never intend to. Why lose the ability to walk as so many people do?

Back came a jeering postcard from Alliance, O.:

"I didn't know anyone was so dumb. God must have been asleep when you was made."

I prefer to think that the Deltic is weeping at what man is letting the machine age do to him. And what is it doing? It is gradually making him unnecessary in the world—by taking over his functions.

The machine holds an edge in the world of muscle. It has already replaced man there.

But now machines have taken the second step to supersede their creators—mankind. They can think. They have mechanical brains that can solve some problems quicker than a thousand brilliant men.

Today the brain of a machine is only in its infancy. How far can it go? No scientist can predict a limit.

But Dr. Norbert Wiener of the Massachusetts Institute of Technology, a world authority in this field, says thinking machines will make obsolete the unskilled human workers. He foresees completely automatic factories with assembly lines directed from a single control panel.

And so we stand—at the threshold of a new adventure—the little slave we bought so long ago is now challenging its master.

What has man left to defeat the machine? Nothing but his heart, the one thing a machine lacks. But man hasn't lived by his heart in the sad history of this warring world. Only by using his heart more can he avoid the doom of becoming a hired hand of his own gadgets.

Otherwise the machine will laugh....and laugh....and laugh....until its gears creak.

SMART BUYS FOR EASTER AND AFTER

Dallas Softballers Trim Cabbers, Dr. Pepper Nines Here

The Mustang Shins Metal crew of Dallas turned in an ironman act in turning back two Corsicana softball teams at Territo Park on Wednesday night in a pre-season double header.

The Mustangs nipped City Cab, 4-0 in the first encounter, and then had 14 innings of trouble sking out a narrow 2-1 win over the scrapping Dr. Pepper crew.

Charlie Smith's wildness let two men on in the first inning in the Mustang-Cab game, and the visitors got two more singles and a man on base via error. They scored four runs in the first frame, and that was the game.

J. C. Collier hurled masterful ball for the Peppers in the second game, and the regulation seven innings ended without a score on either side.

J. Howell scored first in the twelfth for Mustangs on a triple and an error, and Collier tied it up in the same frame at 1-1, getting on base via Howell's error, and scoring on J. Christel's single.

Headrick's homer for Mustang in the fourteenth frame sewed up the game.

Dawson Turns Back Wortham, 6-4

Dawson high school's baseball team turned in a 6-4 victory over Wortham in a District 21-B baseball game played in Dawson Tuesday afternoon.

Slater's single in the sixth with the bases full was the turning point of the game, and put Dawson in the lead for good.

Lawrence relieved Berry for Dawson in the fifth frame, and did not allow a hit in the remaining innings, while Wortham pounded Berry for five hits prior to the mound change.

Dawson goes to Richland Friday for its next district game.

Nothing Stands In Way Of Financing Local Health Unit

Senate Bill No. 103 is on the books as law, and it removes barriers that county commissioners court had or thought they had regarding financing of city-county health units.

Representative George O. Nokes of the law firm of Pevhouse, McCall and Nokes, has forwarded a copy of the bill here just in case it is wanted in future discussion of county support of the Corsicana Health Unit.

Gov. Beauford H. Tester signed the measure following its passage by the senate and house.

The bill was introduced by Senator John Bell of Cuero, and it was favorably reported by the committee on public health.

Various individuals and organizations over the county are working toward having the county's part of the health unit expense included in the next budget.

More than 150 persons descended upon the court April 1 to state their case and make a formal application for the allocation of the taxpayers' money.

The bill, which paves the way for both city and county support of the health unit, has provisions that might have existed, follows:

"A bill entitled: An Act authorizing the Commissioners Court of any county or counties and the municipal authorities of any city or cities, towns, school boards and school districts, and any other governmental entity to co-operate in the establishment of a co-ordinated health program, and by mutual agreement to provide for the payment of all costs incident thereto, and declaring an emergency."

"Be it enacted by the Legislature of the State of Texas: Section 1. The commissioners court of any one or more counties and the municipal authorities of any one or more cities, towns, school boards and school districts, and any other governmental entity may co-operate in the establishment of a co-ordinated health program and by mutual agreement may provide for the payment of costs, including the salaries of persons employed, materials used, and the provision of suitable office quarters, health and clinic centers, health services and facilities therefor, and for all maintenance purposes."

Section 2. The fact that our present laws are inadequate creates an emergency and an imperative public necessity that the constitutional rule requiring bills to be read on three several days in each house be, and the same is hereby suspended, and this Act shall be in force from and after its passage, and it is so enacted."

Angry Residents Lodge Complaints As Ball Game Noises Shut Out Rest

Increased complaints from persons living in the vicinity of Territo Park, Corsicana softball park, had resulted Thursday in an announcement by city officials that "something is going to have to do something."

Both J. E. Davant, Jr., police and fire commissioner, and P. Travis Fullwood, street and sanitary commissioner, said Thursday morning that persons living in the neighborhood were complaining of increased noise, long night games and loss of sleep.

The complaints mounted quickly Thursday after the Mustang Shins Metal Co. team of Dallas played a double-header here Wednesday night. The first game was between the Dallas team and the City Cab, and the nightcap was a 14-inning affair with Dr. Pepper.

Investing the public school fund. Rep. Sam Hanna, fiery opponent of the G-A legislation, came close to putting on an amendment which would have a crippling effect.

He wanted a committee of college officials to nominate a slate of three candidates for the state board of education to replace the present commissioners of education. The bill calls for an appointive commissioner to replace the present elective office of state superintendent. An election board would do the appointing.

A motion to table Hanna's amendment failed, 65 to 68. This gave the Dallas legislator a victory over G-A forces. The tables were turned when a direct vote on adoption of the amendment failed several minutes later, 72 to 68. Hanna attributed the defeat to fast work of Gilmer-Alkin supporters in getting members to change their vote.

"Why won't they take this amendment?" Hanna asked the house before the vote came. "It couldn't hurt the bill."

He rallied officers of the Texas State Teachers Association for support in a letter to school teachers members. "We have a chance to write our own ticket," with the Gilmer-Alkin bills.

Hanna showed reporters a mimeographed letter carrying the names of Joe Humphreys, Abilene, president of the TSTA; B. B. Cobb of Fort Worth, secretary, and Charles H. Tennyson of Austin, public relations director.

Linda Gayle Ivie Rites Wednesday
Funeral services for Linda Gayle Ivie, two-month-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. R. N. Ivie, 111 Corsicana, who died at the P. and S. Hospital early Tuesday, were held Wednesday afternoon at 2 o'clock from the Corley Funeral Chapel. Burial was in the Campbell cemetery. The rites were conducted by Rev. Henry Price, pastor of the Assembly of God church.

Surviving are the parents, two brothers, Joe and George Ivie; three sisters, Royce, Iris and Billie Sue Ivie, all of Corsicana, and grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. H. G. Ivie, Barry, an A. J. S. Ward, Purdon.

Couple Officers Get Federal O.K.
Two local Texas National Guard officers received federal recognition and rating Wednesday night, according to an announcement Thursday by Capt. J. C. Gaston.

2nd Lt. Elbert O. Prince is attached to Battery C, Kerens. 2nd Lt. Chas. E. Hutchinson is communications officer with Headquarters Battery here.

What else has he ever done except ponder, piddle and mess up everything in general? Smith asked as some house members laughed and cheered.

The house added one amendment which sponsors of the Gilmer-Alkin bill opposed. By Rep. William Jameson, of El Paso, it struck out provision for an advisory investment commission to aid the state board of education in the establishment of a co-ordinated health program, and by mutual agreement to provide for the payment of all costs incident thereto, and declaring an emergency."

Be it enacted by the Legislature of the State of Texas: Section 1. Walter Bond Hurled One-Hitter For Bengal Club
The Corsicana Tigers continued their undefeated ways in the 9-AA baseball r.e. Tuesday afternoon here by taking the Hillsboro Eagles, 12-1.

Walter Bond tossed a 1-hit ball game for the Bengals, holding the visitors hitless until the top of the sixth, when Pollard's stinging double to left center saved the Tiger right-hander's perfect game.

Except for the first inning, Bond had very solid support from his mates. Jack Bowden's work at short was an inspiration, and the youngster made some almost-impossible throws to first base that caught the runner and left the Bengals cheering.

Bill Berry turned in the only homer of the game, blasting one high and far over the right-field fence in the second frame with one man on.

It was the third conference win in as many games for Corsicana. Hillsboro got its only run the first time it came to bat. Gant got on base via a bobble, went to second when Bond hit Hawke with a pitched ball, and scored on errors by Jack Bowden and Harvey Helms. The Tigers called a huddle, ironed out the kinks, and retired the side without any more mistakes.

From then on it was Corsicana's game all the way, with the Tigers counting six runs in their half of the first off two pitchers. The Bengals used two singles, two walks, a hit batter and two Hillsboro errors to count their runs there.

Counts started for the visitors, lasted 1-3 of an inning, and then was replaced by LeVane Hight, who did somewhat better with an unusual delivery.

The Tigers are host to the Waxahachie Indians here Thursday afternoon in their next district encounter.

WASHINGTON LETTER... by Jane Eads

WASHINGTON—One sees Cornelia Bryce Pinchot everywhere in town. She is said to be one of the capital's most influential women. She is easy to spot, the tall, slender widow of former Governor Gifford Pinchot of Pennsylvania. She brushes her flaming red hair high on her head, matches her lipstick and nail polish with it, wears tweeds.

The day I talked with her in the spacious library of her huge mansion she wore a henna-colored suit and very pointed green kid pumps, large pearls and a rare yellow diamond ring that blazed like a neon light. Whatever the extent of her influence, there is no doubt that Cornelia Pinchot is one of the busiest women in capital life. Her activities have included work with a great number of national independent and so-called liberal groups.

Currently she is chairman of the United Nations Forum here and program chairman of the newly-formed Washington World Affairs Center. In this last capacity she is concerned with plans for a widely publicized panel discussion early in April on "American Influence Abroad." Speakers will include Assistant Secretary of State George V. Allen, Senator Paul Douglas (D-Ill) and Clinton Golden, labor advisor to Paul Hoffman, economic cooperation administrator.

After this shindig she will board a special plane and head for Tehran. She has been asked to make the trip by the Iranian Institute, of which she is a board member. Heading the group will be Arthur Pope, head of the Institute. Mrs. Pinchot told me she is interested in what soil erosion has done to Iran and that she hopes to go on to India and perhaps China from there.

This fabulous woman is always flying off to some troubled far corner of the world, usually at the invitation of somebody important in the government. After the war she visited Germany and Greece. "I went to Greece," she told me, "because it was the first country where our new and explosive foreign policy, the policy of containment, was being worked out, plus of course the economic and military aid."

On the credit side, Mrs. Pinchot says we have helped keep Greece from getting inside the iron curtain. We have done some reconstruction work and we've fed and equipped the army in civil war. "On the debit side," she says, "we have failed to strengthen the non-Communist left and center groups, which are forces we've got to look to if Greece is ever going to maintain her position as an intellectual and moral influence. In many instances some of the American help has been diverted into ways that play directly into Communist hands."

Suicide Verdict
DALLAS, April 14—(P)—Harvey McDowell's death, which followed a divorce from his wife by about a week, was suicide, said Justice of the Peace Pierce McBride. McBride returned an inquest verdict of suicide by taking poison.

Sometimes An Animal Can Be Odd

By ALFON L. BLAKESLEE
AP Science Reporter.

NEW YORK—You meet such interesting animals...

There's a walking ball of toothpicks that eats ants, a kangaroo that plays Tarzan, the cactus, bandicoot, "flying mice," and the bashful crocodile.

For good measure there are green ants and a tree that stings you. There's the obliging carpet snake that can help in good housekeeping, the nasty death adder, nastier talpan or big boss of nasty snakes.

You can rub elbows with this frightful menagerie on the Cape York peninsula of Northeast Australia. Better yet, you can inspect them, nicely dead and harmless, at the American Museum of Natural History.

Scores of these odd fellows were just brought back by the 1948 Archbold Cape York Expedition. Cape York is a 100,000 square mile area full of strange plants and animals and up to now it hasn't been explored much by scientists.

The walking ball of toothpicks is the ephyn ant-eater, a distant cousin of the duck-billed platypus. This ant-eater is a survivor of a kind of mammal that maybe was common 60 to 70 million years ago. Now he survives in easy to see. He's a fat little fellow about 18 inches long, with a bill-like snout. He's covered with long, sharp quills 1 to 2 inches long, like fat rounded toothpicks. He can stick them out and roll into a ball. This ant-eater, formally known as Tachyglossus, is one of two egg-laying mammals.

He eats termites and ants, and is aided in the search by sharp claws. Australian natives say he's good to eat and tastes like pork. He shivers violently when cold, but isn't very good at controlling his body temperature. He's evidence that shivering was one of the first methods that mammals developed to warm themselves when it gets cold.

The tree-climbing kangaroo is another oddity. It lives in the trees, even gives birth and brings up its young up in this arboreal home. Four to five feet long, and weighing about 15 pounds, he jumps from branch to branch, eating fruits, leaves and ferns, and may come down to earth to food gets scarce upstairs. His front paws are well developed, and he grabs hold with them and pushes with his hind legs like a boy climbing a rope. The ball of his foot is a thick pad of tissue something like sponge rubber. It serves as a shock absorber and gripping device.

The cactus is another tree-dweller. He's from one to four feet long, with soft fur. The male is spotted grey and white. One native boy said he could smell them. He'd sniff and stop under a tree, saying "cactus up there." Often it took him ten minutes of sharp-eyed looking to spot the cactus.

Geoffrey M. Tate, business manager of the expedition and brother of Dr. Tate, hunted down snakes and crocodiles. He brought back two of the Johnston fresh water crocodiles, youngsters about 18 inches long. They grow to length of 7 or 8 feet. Timid, they are, too, Mr. Tate said.

"You could jump into a pool of water with them, and they wouldn't bother you," he said. But watch out for the death adder, a slim little fellow 18 to 24 inches long. Its poison affects the nerves, like a cobra's venom. Your chance of living if you get bitten is only 50 per cent. You have a far better chance with the rattlesnake. Worse still is the Talpan snake, a seven-footer. If he bites you, you may have as little as two minutes to make out your will.

Leonard J. Brass, biologist and expedition leader, brought back 11,600 specimens of plants. Most dangerous of these is stinging tree. It looks quite harmless, Mr. Brass said. It resembles a bush, and usually is 10 to 12 feet high. It has broad leaves, but they're covered with stiff, glistening hairs. If you brush against the leaf, the hairs stick into you and sting like a needle. Each hair gives you a little hypodermic of formic acid. Natives say the stinging tree can kill a horse. It doesn't kill a human, but it can make you quite sick. Even weeks afterward, the sting parts of your body smart when you wash.

Medical College For Dallas Likely
DALLAS, April 14—(P)—A state medical school branch in Dallas likely will be ordered by the legislature before the current session ends. Lt. Gov. Allan Shivers said Wednesday.

Here for an address, he predicted that "we can find enough money for the medical school."

In Reality, He Sat Right Down And Wrote Himself a Real Nasty Letter

C. J. Lockhart, area rent director, received the following letter Wednesday from a former Kereens resident whose house has been put back under rent control:

"Dear Mr. Rent Director: "I don't understand all of these government forms. I hope I have this one filled out right. "They tell me you people always reduce rents so I want to tell you what a hardship you will work on me and my family if you do so. My grandfather was a soldier in the Confederate Army, my father had a hard time staying out of World War I, and I suffered greatly under the rationing of World War II.

"My wife is a widow and no other source of income. I hope you can see what will happen in the event of a reduction. "Trusting you are a reasonable-minded man, I am entrusting my future well being in your hands, and if you don't do right by me I will write by Congressman."

The letter was signed by J. A. Inman, Jr. Inman is rent director of Port Arthur, and former investigator with the Corsicana office. Inman also is quite a tongue-in-checker.

Fear Said Hampering Youth Council Efforts By Speaker At Rotary Club

Fear—the fear of self, the fear of criticism and the fear of failure—as an emotion is hampering work of the Corsicana Youth Council, the Rev. Jack O. Goff, pastor of the North Side Baptist church, told members of the Rotary Club at their regular luncheon Wednesday.

The Rev. Mr. Goff, prominent in the youth movement and known for his work among delinquent boys and girls, said "one hears all kind of criticism against the youth movement."

"We welcome it," he added. "It shows to us that we are doing some good."

Describing fear as the oldest of emotions, the speaker said "it produces stinginess, and greed and selfishness."

In the youth movement here, it is to get people interested because of fear," he declared.

The pastor, discussing the "Development of the Life Unit" centered his talk around the 12th verse of seventh chapter of Matthew: "All things therefore whatsoever ye would that men should do unto you, even so do ye also unto them: for this is the law and the prophets."

"The spirit of brotherhood is the greatest need of the hour," he said. "If there is to be a world neighborhood, there must be a world brotherhood."

The Rev. Mr. Goff stressed the equal development of the three tangents of life—the mental, the physical, and the spiritual.

Development of one without the other produces disaster, he declared, adding "It is necessary that the three be developed together if we have a balanced life."

He pointed to the three elements

ROTARY HOE Controls Weeds in the row

REDUCES HAND HOING

Quoting Mr. D. L. Jones, superintendent, Texas A & M Experiment Station, Lubbock: "At present, this is practically the only tool that will control weeds in the drill row before close sweep cultivation is possible."

Here are some advantages of the rotary hoe:

1. Uproots weed seedlings in the row; allows topsoil to dry, preventing further weed growth.
2. Works best of high tractor speeds, without damage to cotton or corn plants—up to 60 acres per day.
3. Definitely stimulates young crops.
4. Breaks soil crust, helping crops to come up.

Allis-Chalmers rotary hoes are front-mounted, where you can watch them easily without turning your head. You can keep the teeth exactly on the row, getting rid of the weeds that cause the most trouble. See us right away about an Allis-Chalmers Rotary Hoe for your farm.

Some $352 of the county's $3,000 quota has been subscribed, McKinney said.

"Response to the cancer drive thus far has been satisfactory," said McKinney, "but it appears that an extra effort will be needed if our goal is to be reached."

The chairman pointed out that "there is no limit to what we should do in fighting cancer. If more than his $3,000 minimum can be raised, it can be used to good advantage in our state."

The state budget is $45,000. Contributions so far follow:

Fred M. Allison, $50; W. E. McKinney, $50; J. T. (Tom) Eady, $10; Dr. Harry Ezell, $5; Hallie McClure, $10; Morton Printing Co., $5; Goldman and Brustein, $10; Marks Bros., $10; E. R. School And City Officials Discuss Charter Changes

Separation of the municipality and the schools neared a concrete stage Tuesday as representatives of each met in an informal conference at the city hall and agreed to ask for a charter change election.

The formal request for the election will come from the school board at the regular meeting of the city commission next Tuesday. It will be bolstered by petitions signed by approximately 400 residents asking that the election be held.

Tuesday morning's conference was arranged to discuss details regarding the election.

It was apparent that hopes of the school board to hold the election before school is out were blasted. City Attorney Julius C. Jacobs, who was unable to attend the conference, told the commissioners earlier that at least 70 days would be required to meet state regulations governing charter change elections. That would place the voting somewhere in the vicinity of June 25.

Mayor Hubert T. Braselton, City Secretary J. Preston Welch, Commissioners J. E. Davant Jr., Edgar Rittersbacher and P. Travis Fullwood represented the city at the session.

Mrs. H. B. Stroube, president of the school board, B. W. Woolley and Ralph R. Brown, members, W. H. Norwood, superintendent of schools, and Jerry C. Kloe, attorney for the school board, represented the schools.

It was definitely decided that on next Tuesday the election

Another Voodoo Case Reported

Constable Joe Allen was called in on a "hoodoo" case Tuesday. A group of negroes came to his office charging that certain negroes had "voodooed" her husband into a Temple hospital, putting a "spell" on him so he'd die and she'd get his insurance.

The constable told the group he knew of no law set up on hoodooism and suggested that they go to the hospital and contact the physician.
